

PEARL – a programme with a silky mother-of-pearl shimmer effect

LEICHT's new surface programme PEARL adds a luxurious touch to the kitchen space with its silky mother-of-pearl effect. A subtle shimmer is created by the incidence of light thanks to special finishing. Without appearing hectic, PEARL is a lively alternative to matt surfaces.

The edges chamfered at an angle of 45° as well as the PEARL covering are made of an acrylic material around two millimetres thick. This allows light to enter the acrylic body, illuminating the material from within and creating a unique depth effect which particularly comes into its own with dark surfaces – the reason why PEARL is currently available in two colours.

With this new programme, LEICHT is fulfilling the aesthetic desire for that extra special something in the modern kitchen. The shimmering mother-of-pearl effect is a novel eye-catcher and at the same time discreet enough not to intrude.

PEARL thus retains the elegant, timeless overall look for which LEICHT stands as a brand. With its 2022 collection, the premium manufacturer from Waldstetten is once again extending its impressive range of options for designing top-quality kitchens in which both aesthetic wishes and individual needs are taken into account.
